2025

OCTOBER RECAP:

This month, our curious toddlers joyfully explored the wonders of October with a focus on North America, spiders, and pumpkin patches. The children learned about the North America through stories and hands-on activities. They marveled at spiders, observing their webs and learning about their role in nature. Picture days allowed the kids to shine and capture their adorable smiles. Throughout October, children eagerly explored everything around them, developing their curiosity, independence, and love for nature and community. It was a month filled with discovery, growth, and seasonal fun!

NOVEMBER NEWS:

This November, our little explorers embraced the spirit of gratitude with themes centered on being thankful, birds, and Thanksgiving. The children learned about different types of birds, their habitats, and the importance of nature's winged friends. We focused on the theme of thankfulness, encouraging children to share what they are grateful for and practice kindness. As Thanksgiving approaches, the kids participated in festive activities, crafts, and stories celebrating gratitude and family. Parent-teacher conferences provided a wonderful opportunity for families and educators to connect and support each child's growth. The month was filled with warm reflections, community building, and appreciation, fostering a sense of thankfulness and thankfulness in every little heart. To celebrate the season, the class will enjoy a festive Thanksgiving feast together.

Dates to remember:
